Welcome to the EnergyConnect eNews January 2026 Edition.

Featured in this issue:

- Final Tower and conductor stringing has been completed on nationally critical project EnergyConnect.
- Construction of EnergyConnect is having positive impact on First Nations business communities.
- As heatwaves affect NSW, Transgrid is taking extra care.
- Riverina Region is welcoming Wagga Energy Training Hub.
- Transgrid is planning to upgrade control rooms.

Final Tower and conductor stringing has been completed on nationally critical project EnergyConnect.

The last of 1,500 towers and stringing of 10,000km of conductor cabling across the 700km project has been completed.

Click here for further information

Construction of EnergyConnect is having positive impact on First Nations business communities.

One of the businesses contracted to deliver Dinawan Substation is an Indigenous-owned building and infrastructure company based in regional New South Wales.

Click here for further information

As heatwaves affect NSW, Transgrid is taking extra care.

Across our major projects and network maintenance we take extra care to protect the environment, property and the people who live and work nearby.

Click here for further information

Riverina region is welcoming Wagga Energy Training Hub.

The Wagga Energy Training Hub is set to become a key part of Australia's energy transition, delivering hands-on, end-to-end training.

Click here for further information

Transgrid is planning to upgrade control rooms.

As more renewable energy connects to the grid and coal generation retires, these upgrades will help Transgrid manage the network more efficiently

Click here for further information

Unsubscribe

You are receiving this email because you are a member of our mailing list.
This email was sent by: NSW Electricity Networks Operations Pty Limited - 180 Thomas Street

SYDNEY, NSW, 2000, Australia