

HumeLink East Recent Works and Events

Enabling Works

HumeLink East, delivered for Transgrid by Acciona and Genus Joint Venture, has completed six access tracks since the start of enabling works in February this year, with four in the Snowy Valleys region and two in the Cootamundra-Gundagai region.

In the short term, the access tracks, across private and public land, will allow the construction of transmission towers and lines for HumeLink. In the long term, they allow ongoing access for maintenance of the transmission lines, playing an important role in the provision of safe and reliable electricity.

The construction of the Transgrid laydown area at Faulder Avenue in Yass began in February and is expected to be completed by the end of May 2025. Ecology, heritage, biodiversity and property condition surveys continue to be conducted on properties and roads that will be accessed for the construction of the project.

Enabling works for the Adjungbilly accommodation facility began in early February.

Community & Stakeholders

HumeLink East has established relationships with the local councils within the project area. Council representatives and other stakeholders recently attended consultation sessions to discuss the Social Impact Management Plan. This plan will outline how the project will manage and minimise its impact on local communities.

HumeLink East will be hosting Community Information & Opportunities events in the local areas of the project alignment in May 2025. Dates and locations are listed below. We invite the community to hear about the latest project news, share information about upcoming work packages, learn about employment opportunities on the project and provide feedback on how HumeLink East can support the local community.

Upcoming on HumeLink East

Over the next three months, the following activities will be happening:

- Pre-construction works at the Yass accommodation facility at Black Range Road and Yass Valley Way begin in late April, with anticipated completion later this year
- Community Information & Opportunities sessions in Tumut, Gundagai, Yass and Crookwell in May
- The Adjungbilly accommodation facility is scheduled for completion in July.

What to Expect in the Community

- Notifications going to directly impacted properties and near neighbours
- As enabling works continue, there might be an increase in HumeLink East vehicles travelling along local roads and workers in local areas.
